Reed Exhibitions statement on COVID-19:
Information for our Customers

June 4, 2020: Reed Exhibitions is actively and continuously monitoring the COVID-19 virus outbreak in line with local, state and federal authorities and public health advice, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the World Health Organization (WHO).

Please check the event website for up to date information about a specific event. With regard to the COVID-19 virus, our position remains unchanged: the health and wellness of our exhibitors, visitors and staff is our number one priority. With the situation evolving rapidly, we strongly urge our exhibitors and visitors to refer to the guidelines and protocols as suggested by your local or national public health authorities regarding the virus.

Reed Exhibitions has created a Health & Safety Task Force to develop and implement policies and best practices around COVID-19 response and prevention. We are following local, state and federal public health advice closely and our policies and best practices will be updated and adjusted as more information and guidance becomes available. We have also contacted our venue partners and are coordinating closely with them to ensure that they are acting in accordance with the advice of public health authorities and that information is available to our customers about the precautions being taken by the venue related to the COVID-19 virus. Statements/information from the venue(s) will be added to our event websites as they become available. Around the world we have strengthened hygiene, sanitization and the availability of disinfectants at our events and we are ensuring that we have appropriate medical support and protocols in place based on guidance from local and national public health authorities.

Our event attendees are encouraged to check the latest travel advice and entry guidelines for their home country and the country they wish to visit. Travel restrictions and local quarantine requirements are in place in many countries around the world, including the United States.
